NANKING, Sept. 25.—Bringing death or horrible injury to at least 100 non-combatants, Japanese war planes raided China's capital again today in defiance of sharp new protests by the United States and Great Britain.
The main objectives of the raid were the Nanking water works and power plant. Both were put out of action before the destroyers roared southward out of the city.
Claim Seven Shot Down
Twenty-five bombers roared over the capital for some two hours, dropping their death-dealing missiles over a wide area.
The first warning signal was sounded at 9 a. m. and the "all" (Continued On Page Two)

What has become of all the straw hats that recently topped our master minds? Some few intrepid souls still cling to the faded straws, like an old man's thoughts to the dreamy past, but the bulk of them have been laid to rest in dingy closets and cupboards where they will hibernate until the robins come again. Nobody seems to love an old straw hat.

Police quoted Miss O'Keefe as saying Frank had threatened her if she didn't return 178 love letters written over a period of years.

Ambassador Wang Indicts Jap Empire

Says Military Attacks On Defenseless Civilians Is Without Parallel In History

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—In a scorching denunciation of Japan for military attacks on defenseless Chinese civilian populations, Chinese Ambassador C. T. Wang today indicted the "Empire of the Rising Sun" as having "grossly violated the principles of humanity and the pertinent canons of international law."
Charging Japan with directing widespread atrocities including the use of poison gas, against non-combatants and the Red Cross, Dr. Wang said:
"The Japanese war machine has continuously brought death and destruction on China, so cruel and outrageous that history furnishes no parallel."
"The Japanese army in China has violated every pertinent principle of the laws of nations and on account of its iniquitous treatment of the innocent and the sick and wounded has put itself beyond the pale of humanity."

Shipments Of Old Metal To Far East Held Up By Strike

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 25.—Shipments of old metal to the Far East were curtailed today by the strike of an estimated 2,000 truck drivers, engineers and yardmen, and by the closing of 12 scrap metal yards.

A spokesman for the Scrap Metal Dealers Association insisted only 500 workers had walked out and that 10 of the city's 15 yards were closed or working on a restricted basis. The strikers demand better wages and shorter hours.

China Informs U. S. She Will Battle Until All Japs Are Expelled

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—China has informed the United States she will battle the invading Japanese armies until every soldier of the "Empire of the Rising Sun" has been expelled from her shores, it was learned today on high authority.
The Chinese government has made it plain it is in the "undeclared war" to insure ultimate freedom from further Japanese encroachment on its territorial integrity.
Casting the die for a last-ditch fight, it was learned, likewise has communicated notice of this intention to the governments of Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and the Soviet Union.
This firm determination served to nullify virtually all hopes of an early peace in the far east. It spurred worried foreign officers, including the American state department, to renewed efforts at bringing pressure on Japan to halt her undeclared war with China. But it was frankly admitted in diplomatic circles there appears little chance of achieving this end.
The certainty of a prolonged conflict in the far east aroused fears anew that it eventually might drag in the others powers and detonate a new world war.

President Making Visit To Yellowstone

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Sept. 25.—Three quarters of the way across the continent on his 1937 "tour of inspection," President Roosevelt paused here today for a week-end of rest and enjoyment of the wonders of nature.
In the past two days, while the presidential special pounded thru the corn belt of Illinois and Iowa and then on into the sage brush castle ranges of Wyoming, Mr. Roosevelt carefully avoided all surface political entanglements.
Political Drama
A major political drama, nevertheless, was enacted as the special train sped through Wyoming and from the rear platform have come pronouncements which promise to have a definite effect on the nation's immediate future.
The final act of this drama—which involved Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, a leader of the fight against the administration's court reform program—is still to be enacted, however, because the president very adroitly avoided either a break or reconciliation scene with Postmaster General James A. Farley's erstwhile protegee.
Thus far on his way to the Pacific coast, the president has given from the rear platform a distinct hint of a special session of congress to take up crop control and price stabilization. He has defended the spending program of his first four years and asserted there will be no let up in the tenacity of his drive toward his social and economic objectives.

At Yellowstone
Into one of his informal addresses, Mr. Roosevelt remove the theme of his constitution day address from the base of the Washington monument on Sept. 18. At Casper, Wyo., he said that "it is worth repeating in every part of the nation that Democratic processes of government can meet the problems of an emergency."

Roosevelt Scored For Coal Dumping By Other Nations

Woman Contends Pennsylvania Miners Are Being Cheated Of Living

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 25.—A strongly worded resolution severely castigating the Roosevelt administration for the recently negotiated trade treaty with Russia which permits importation of foreign anthracite coal was adopted today by the Republican state committee meeting here.

Introduced by committee woman Jakes of Lackawanna county, the resolution declared:
"Thousands of Pennsylvania miners and many others dependent on the production of Pennsylvania coal fields are being robbed by the dumping of Russian coal and German coke into the United States produced at the expense of underpaid and overworked labor aboard and sold here at prices with which Pennsylvania fields cannot compete."

The resolution urged immediate steps such "as may correct this situation and return the coal markets of America to American workers."
U. S. Senator James J. Davis in his remarks introducing U. S. Sen. H. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire also assailed the administration for the foreign coal imports.

The girl, Mary Stankovich, sitting in the automobile, saw Faber leap. The body was not immediately recovered.

Alcatraz Revolt Is Stamped Out

Warden, Badly Beaten By Convict, Continues To Run Prison

PRISONERS DEMAND MORE PRIVILEGES

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Iron handed discipline today was reported to have stamped out the last vestige of revolt at the bleak Alcatraz Island prison, Devil's Island of the U. S. government.

Although badly beaten by one vicious convict, Warden James A. Johnston continued to run the prison from his sick bed, dictating a report of the outbreak to his superiors at Washington and directing the punishment of the offenders.
The Warden's statement revealed the slugging he suffered yesterday was the culmination of a long smoldering rebellion designed by a group of convicts to stampede officials into giving them additional privileges.

Sudden Attack
Warden Johnston, in charge of 280 of the worst criminals in the country, was attacked as he went unarmed into the mess hall where about 200 of the convicts were eating.

Suddenly, Burton Phillips, a life term kidnaper and bank robber, rose from his seat on the aisle and lashed out at the warden with his fists. The gray-haired prison official crumpled under the blows as the other convicts set up an unholy howl.
Guards at peep holes in the walls were unable to shoot for fear of (Continued On Page Two)

Three Killed In Crash On Highway

Truck Trailer Coupling Breaks, Crashes Into Side Of Automobile

CLEVELAND, OHIO, PERSONS VICTIMS

(International News Service)
LORAIN, O., Sept. 25.—A loose coupling on a truck trailer was blamed today for the death of three Cleveland residents, killed when the heavy vehicle shot across a highway two miles west of here and tipped over the side of their automobile.
The dead were Hans E. Kollin, 34, his wife, Harriett, 29, and her mother, Mrs. Anna Pitt, 55. Mrs. Pitt was killed instantly when the trailer, last of a two-trailer hook-up, cut loose and crashed headon into Kollin's machine. Kollin and his wife died in a hospital a few hours after the accident.

State highway patrol corporal J. Bower said a complete inspection of the truck-trailer equipment would be made. He said the driver, Veal Churchill, 36, would not be held.

Hurled To Road, Young Man Dies

(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Sept. 25.—Hurled into a concrete highway when the fire truck on which he was returning from a celebration at Brockway made a sudden stop, Herman Allan Nale, 19, of Punxsutawney, died in the Adrian hospital today.
The mishap occurred at a junction two miles north of here late last night. Nale suffered a fracture at the base of the skull and died of a hemorrhage two hours later. The truck stopped suddenly in a dense fog to avoid striking a car in front and Nale, riding on the running board, was hurled to the road.

False Pretense Charge Upheld

De Felice Found Guilty Of Falsely Securing State Relief Funds

TOOK RELIEF MONEY WHILE HOLDING JOB

Sam De Felice, charged with obtaining money by false pretense from the State Emergency relief department, was on trial before Judge W. Walter Braham at Lawrence county court today. A verdict of guilty was returned this afternoon.
It was claimed that De Felice had signed and drawn the money on 14 Emergency Relief checks, amounting to $266, while at the same time he had drawn $469.44 from a regular place of employment, earning during the period covered by the charges about $110 per month.

J. W. Moorhead, head of the State Emergency Relief in Lawrence county brought the charge. It set forth that De Felice did unlawfully, in an application for relief, falsely represented that neither he nor any member of his family were employed, by reason of which his family was in destitute circumstances. While in truth the defendant was employed and his family was not in distress.

Beulah Norris, employed in the relief department, testified as to the rules of the relief department, showing that in order to obtain relief an applicant must sign an application setting forth that he and his family are in dire need.

Lucille McGuire told about taking De Felice's application for relief. Ruth Sargeant told of making an investigation at the De Felice home in which she was told that none of the family were employed.

Florence Sarver later visited the De Felice home and learned from a child that De Felice was working.

Earl Ruhl, told about attempts made to have De Felice make restitution after the facts had been learned.

The defendant claimed that he did (Continued On Page Two)

Anti-Fascist Plotters Are Arrested—Ten Nazi Blackshirts Killed

HITLER VEHEMENT AT NAZI SLIP-UP

Momentous Conference Being Held by Dictators Of Two Countries

MUNICH, Sept. 25.—Summary arrest of anti-Fascist plotters, a burst of spleen by Der Fuehrer because some of the reception arrangements went wrong and the death of ten Nazi blackshirt guards in a collision in the streets today marked Premier Benito Mussolini's first visit to Germany for a momentous conference with Reichsfuehrer Adolph Hitler.

Otherwise, the most lavish and picturesque welcome ever staged by Germany for a visitor from abroad went off as scheduled, with the frequent handclaps and brisk salutes exchanged between the two leading dictators of the world furnishing an appropriate prelude to the last cordial of modern-day Fascism their conference is destined to bring to fruition.

Hitler Angered
Hitler's anger resulted from the tardiness of Nazi officials in reaching the Munich station. They were to have been drawn up in an impressive phalanx first to greet him and then Il Duce.

But by an apparent misunderstanding which resulted in a strange contretemps, Der Fuehrer arrived sixteen minutes ahead of time to find himself a lonely figure (Continued On Page Two)

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 25.—On a wave of harmony, G. Edward Green, of Edgewood, today was unanimously elected to fill the unexpired term of M. Harvey Taylor as Republican state chairman.

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 25.—By every sign thrown out by simmering political discussion, G. Edward Green of Edgewood was assured election today to serve as Republican state chairman until next spring.

In special meeting here, members of the Republican state committee, including many of those who yesterday had other hopes, conceded it as Acting Chairman Green would be elected to fill the unexpired term of M. Harvey Taylor of Harrisburg, who resigned.

Others May Be Nominated.
The possibility existed that several other nominations might be presented, including Rep. David Perry, Blair county, and John O'Neill, Washington county commissioner, but even this chance carried the likelihood of immediate withdrawal of the nominations in deference to party harmony.

Minor booms for the chairmanship appeared early yesterday in hotel lobby parleys but faded as party leaders agreed discussion would be disastrous in advance of the November election.

Early today Green was conceded from 75 to 95 per cent of the committee's vote.

Controversial reservations on party policy or revision of platform were expected to be shunted swiftly into committee or be tabled to quash any disruption of meeting tranquillity.

Sabbath School Association Group Has Gathering At Pulaski M. E.

The Pulaski district of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association held a rally at the Pulaski M. E. church Friday, September 24. At 6:30 there was a banquet in the church dining room and after a brief program of music and humor, the matter of starting an active Young People's Council was discussed. The president of Pulaski district, Rev. Orville L. Kuhn appointed a committee to consider this.

Rev. R. G. Woodburn, pastor of the Mt. Jackson United Presbyterian church was the speaker of the evening and pointed his address at the needs of youth today. It was an inspirational address that was enjoyed.

At the evening session held in the church auditorium Rev. E. J. Jennings had charge of the opening devotional and a duet was furnished by the New Bedford U. P. church. Albert Chapin, the leadership training school superintendent of Pulaski district gave plans of a leadership training school to start next month. The county president, Robert M. Strickler, Jr. announced the county Young People's conference to be held at the Highland U. P. church, Saturday, October 9. He also announced an adult conference to be held at the Central Presbyterian church, New Castle, Sunday afternoon, October 10 at 2:30 p. m.

The Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association convention to be held at Hershey, Pa., October 13, 14, 15, was also stressed and it was stated that Pulaski district was requested to send 9 delegates. It was voted by Pulaski district to take a copy of the expense sending Rev. Orville L. Kuhn and Mrs. Kuhn.

PURVIS-WEINGARTNER WEDDING AT BUTLER

With Rev. J. Calvin Reid, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of Butler, officiating, Miss Mary Purvis became the bride of Robert Weingartner of New Castle Friday afternoon, Sept. 24, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Purvis, 225 West Pearl street, Butler.

The ceremony was performed before a huge bank of candelabra ferns, white chrysanthemums and cat-tails. With Miss Betty Mason of West Middlesex playing the wedding march, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. Her train was carried by Master George T. Richards of New Castle, a nephew of the groom.

Mrs. Weingartner wore a Schiaparelli gown of white cut velvet with a long tulle veil made of tulle of the valley and Mrs. Pinch roses. She was attended by Mrs. James Purvis, a sister-in-law, who was groomed in green velvet and carried tokens.

Mr. Weingartner was attended by Robert E. Hoose of New Castle. Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Purvis. Shortly after the bride and groom left on an automobile honeymoon which will take them through northern New York and through Canada to the east coast.

Mrs. Weingartner is a graduate of Westminster college and for several years has been a teacher in the Butler schools. Mr. Weingartner, a son of former Senator and Mrs. George T. Weingartner of the Butler road, is also a graduate of Westminster college and is engaged in the floral business here.

Returning from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Weingartner will reside on the Butler road.

TABISH-DUDEK WEDDING TODAY

Miss Clara Tabish, 227 Smithfield street, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tabish, and John Dudek, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Dudek, also of Smithfield street, were united in marriage this morning at a pretty ceremony in the Madonna church, Oakland. The Rev. Fr. Szelon officiated with the single ring service, in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives of the couple.

The vows were exchanged at 9 o'clock before a beautifully decorated altar, palms, ferns and Fall flowers being used in profusion.

The bride was attired in a white satin gown with long skirt and Queen Ann collar. The long sleeves were fitted and her veil of tulle was made en train, with crown effect. She carried an arm bouquet of Madonna lilies and valley lilies. Miss Helen Tabish served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a royal blue satin creation, patterned similar, with long skirt and puffed sleeves. A band of flowers to match adorned her head and her arm bouquet was of Briar Cliffe roses.

Bridesmaids included Stella Dudek, sister of the groom; Sophie Tabish, cousin of the bride, and Frances Dudek, cousin of the groom. All appeared in gowns alike, made of peach satin with floor length skirts and their accessories matched. They too, wore head bands of flowers and their arm bouquets were tea roses. Ushers were Walter Socho, Walter Sniezek, and another Walter Sniezek, all of New Castle.

The bride was given in marriage by Arthur Lysiak, who also served as best man.

Wedding music was provided by the Melody Boys, the choir and church organist throughout, and preceding the ceremony. Immediately following, congratulations were received by the young couple in the church reception rooms. A wedding breakfast was served to the immediate families in Oakland hall at 10 o'clock. Covers were laid for twenty-five and the appointments were in keeping with the nuptial motif. The tiered cake was prominently placed.

The couple dispensed with a trip for the present and are "at home" to friends at 64 High street, their newly furnished residence. She has been associated with the Pottery and he is employed with the New Castle Tin Mill.

TWENTIER-NEVIN NUPTIALS FRIDAY

Of interest here is the wedding news of Miss Estel Twentier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Twentier of Portersville, and Elmer Nevin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nevin, Ellwood City, Pa., the ceremony having taken place Friday afternoon in Ellwood City.

The single ring service was used, and the Rev. W. E. Minter, pastor of the Ellwood United Presbyterian church, officiated in the parsonage. They were unattended. The bride was attired in a royal blue crepe dress with matching accessories.

She is a graduate of the Portersville high school and he graduated from Ellwood high and is now employed with the Shelby Tube company there.

Mr. and Mrs. Nevin left immediately following the ceremony on a trip to Canton, O., where they will visit relatives, and will continue on to the Shenandoah valley. They will reside in Ellwood City upon their return, in two weeks.

T. I. Club

Mrs. Mike Carvella, South Jefferson street, proved a charming hostess to members of the T. I. club Thursday evening. Cards were the popular pastime, prizes going to Miss Phyllis Maciarello and Mrs. Anthony Bullano. The club token went to Mrs. George Ross.

At an appointed time a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo. Miss Charlotte Leonard was a special guest. The occasion was most delightful.

In two weeks Mrs. Helen Toscano, East Lutton street, will receive the group.

"Wet Paint" signs hang today on many of the city's mail boxes, and before many more days pass they'll be seen on every one of the 150 boxes in New Castle. Painters under the supervision of Arthur Castle, Gloucester, Mass., are giving the receptacles their annual paint coat. Castle was awarded the government contract out of Washington. The paint, a standard green used for mail boxes in the country over, was furnished by Uncle Sam.

Joyce Hartz Wingerd And John Cooper Exchange Vows

White gladioli, bamboo plants and ferns formed the background in the Central Presbyterian church for the wedding this afternoon of Joyce Hartz Wingerd, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles B. Wingerd, to John Roberts Cooper, son of Mrs. William A. Cooper of Conshohocken, Pa. The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Charles B. Wingerd, father of the bride, performed the single ring ceremony. Organist for the service was Miss Helen Ewing, who played "Traumerlei" by Schumann, "Meditation" by Massenet, "At Dawning" by Cadman, "Liebestraume" by Liszt, "I Love You Truly" by Bond, as well as the traditional marches.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Lowell H. Wingerd, wore a white gown, fashioned of crepe back satin under a lace coat fitted at the waistline, with long light sleeves. Fulfilling the tradition of "something borrowed," she wore a three-quarter length veil of soft plain tulle and her flowers were a semi-cascade bouquet of white pansies and bouvardia. The veil was borrowed from a friend of the bride, Mrs. William Milligan of Ben Avon Heights, Pa. Miss Annabelle Hartle of Cincinnati, O., who was her only attendant, wore a gown of blue crepe with a matching hat of velvet and carried a cascaded bouquet of briarcliff roses.

Stanley B. Cooper, brother of the groom, performed the duties of best man and the ushers were William E. Cooper, brother of the groom, and Richard C. Hildner.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue lace with a shoulder corsage of orchids. Mrs. Cooper chose black damask and wore an orchid corsage. Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper will take up residence at 1826 South Arch street, Alliance, O., after September 30. Mr. Cooper is a member of the faculty of Mt. Union college.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception included Mrs. William A. Cooper of Conshohocken, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cooper and daughter, Mary, of Plymouth Meeting, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pass, Mrs. John D. Pennock, Miss Mary Cooper of Syracuse, N. Y.; Miss Lucille Pettis of Alliance, O.; Miss Mary Cole, Mrs. J. L. Hervey, Miss Linn Patton, Mrs. Harold Reithmiller and Mrs. David Thompson of Martins Ferry, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Clark of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan of Ben Avon Heights, Pa.; Mrs. R. E. Buchwalter of Austintown, O.; Rev. and Mrs. Mark Wingerd of Allison Park, Pa.; Dr. Arthur Mitchell, Jamestown, N. Y.; Miss Sarah C. Stevenson of Alliance, O.; Lowell H. Wingerd of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Annabelle Hartle of Cincinnati, O.

SHAFFER-BOYD WEDDING AT HOME

On Friday evening, Sept. 24, at seven o'clock a pretty home wedding was solemnized by the Rev. G. E. Shaffer of East New Castle, when he united in marriage his daughter, Ruth Evelyn, and Ralph Duward Boyd, son of Mrs. Phyllis Boyd of Pulaski. The officiating minister was assisted by Rev. Herbert Boyd of Illinois, a brother of the groom.

The vows were exchanged before an embankment of palms and ferns, with only the immediate families as witnesses. The bride was lovely in a white lace gown, made redingote style over white satin, and her veil was of finger-tip length. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and valley lilies.

Attending her cousin as maid of honor, Mildred Barker of Pittsburgh was groomed in orchid organza and carried a bouquet of Token roses.

Robert Hove of Pulaski, a close friend of the groom, served as best man.

Appropriate music was furnished by Benetta Perry of East New Castle, preceding and following the ceremony including the Mendelssohn and Lohengrin wedding selections.

After a congratulatory period the couple departed for a southern motor trip. For going away the bride wore a rust wool costume suit with black accessories.

Mr. Boyd is a graduate of Shenango high and New Castle Business college and has been associated in the offices of the Carnegie-Illinois tin mill in the New Castle plant. Mr. Boyd is a graduate of New Castle high and is now affiliated with the Standard Tank Car company at Masury, O.

Upon their return they will reside for the present at the home of the bride's parents.

DELPLEASURE WEDDING NEWS

Choosing her parents' 23rd wedding anniversary for her wedding date, the ceremony that took place Thursday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Delp, 503 Martin street, was one of the loveliest of early fall events, when their daughter, Wilma, became the bride of John Leasure, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Leasure, Myrtle avenue, Youngstown, O. The impressive single ring service was used, with Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, officiating at 2 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of guests.

The couple had as their attendants Betty Delp, sister of the bride, and Harry Leasure, brother of the groom.

For her wedding, the bride was attired in a gown of white lace over white satin, cut on princess lines, with coronation collar. She wore gardenias in her hair, and her arm bouquet was of Johanna Hill roses. Her sister was groomed in aqua chiffon, made toe length, and wore gardenias in her hair. She carried a cluster of Sweetheart roses.

A wedding dinner was served following the exchange of vows, the dining room table being appointed in keeping with the occasion. A tiered cake with white tapers at either side, formed the centerpiece, further developing a theme of pink and white.

Mr. and Mrs. Leasure left later on a wedding trip through the eastern states. For traveling, the bride selected a brown tweed suit. They will take up residence upon their return in their newly furnished home on Lexington avenue, Youngstown, Ohio.

The couple received a large collection of wedding gifts. Since news of their engagement has been made known, the bride has been feted at a number of parties, receiving many gifts.

A. A. Club
Miss Katherine Smith of East Long avenue entertained the members of the A. A. club at her home Thursday evening.

After a business meeting 500 was in play, with the prizes being awarded to Caroline Plush and Mrs. Frank Plush. The remainder of the evening was spent in fortune-telling, which caused much merriment.

At a late hour the guests were invited into the dining room, where places were arranged for eight. The table was attractively decorated with a large bowl of gladioli forming the centerpiece. On each side were tall tapers. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

The surprise of the evening was the appearance of the hostess with a large birthday cake which she placed in front of Mrs. Frank Plush, who celebrated her birthday anniversary recently. The group then sang "Happy Birthday" to the honored guest.

The club will meet again for a theater party on October 7, meeting at a downtown theater at 7:30 o'clock.

A special guest Thursday evening was Miss Caroline Plush, a former member, now living in Bronxville, N. Y.

Queen Sewing Circle

Mrs. Kenneth Downing, Delaware avenue, had as guests in her home Thursday afternoon, members of the Queen Sewing Circle. A short business meeting was conducted, and later, the social activities were in progress. The prizes were given to Mrs. Mary Harvey and Mrs. E. G. Hoover, for the afternoon.

Lunch was enjoyed, the hostess and Mrs. William Back serving. On Thursday, October 7, the club will meet with Mrs. Mary Harvey on Beckford street.

Macon Bridge

BACK TO BARBARISM

WAR has changed for the worse in recent years, if such a change were possible. In the past, even war was governed by certain ethical considerations and there were practices that were not cricket, as the sporting British might express it.

Even in the World War, notwithstanding its vast scope and long duration, there were few women and children killed. Excepting for the infrequent raids made upon London by German Zeppelins with a view to the demoralization of the civilian population and the firing upon Paris by the Big Berthas, cities and towns outside the actual field of operations escaped danger.

Now, however, there has been a letting down of the barriers that provided some measure of protection from the cruelties and the horrors of war. All is grist that comes to the red mill—women, children, old and young. Invaders of Ethiopia were charged with killing of civilians.

Many an aviator can boast, if he chooses to do so, of the mangled bodies of children he left behind after flying over a Spanish village.

And now the Japanese have indicated their purpose of reducing to dust and ashes and blood and bones the city of Nanking, filled with refugees from the surrounding country, more than two hundred of whom have already been killed or burned to death by incendiary bombs dropped from Japanese planes. Here we find, as in Spain, a complete reversion to barbarism. The civilization of today, it seems, is one with that of Ivan the Terrible and a certain chap named Nero.

PROPHECYING THE WINTER

About this time various prophets arise, and observing natural phenomena, tell us whether we shall have a severe winter or not. One prophet has it that the winter will be severe because the corn husks are thick. Some think thick fur on animals forecasts a hard winter. The "goosebone prophet" has his own original method of making these predictions.

Probably the fur of animals and other such conditions depend not on the winter that is coming, but on the kind of weather thru the summer. If there has been plenty of moisture and food, animals look thrifty. If food has been scarce, they look thin and peaked. It would be a wonderful thing if weather could be predicted far in advance, but the scientists seem to think it can't be done very successfully as yet.

THE END OF RUTH ROLAND'S SERIAL

Since the films are still so young, one does not have to be an "old-timer" to remember Ruth Roland and the thriller-series of silent pictures in which she starred. She came so close to dying on the screen every Saturday night—bound in the path of an onrushing train, falling into a whirlpool, being carried toward a circular saw or losing her hold on hurtling boxcars—that her actual death seems anti-climactic. Somehow one peers for another fade-out subtitle, "To be continued next week," and another hair-breadth rescue.

Ruth Roland was only 40 years old, yet she along with Pearl White, Grace Cunard, Marie Walcamp and a large company were long ago relegated to Hollywood's inactive list, so fast do studio ideas change. But Ruth Roland was not left in the ranks of wistful has-beens extras; contrary to stage and set tradition, she saved her money, invested it in Gold Coast realty, proved to be a good business woman and grew well-to-do as a land trader, earning more than many of her screen sisters.

One need not yearn for a return of subtitled films or even "The Avenging Arrow" spine-tinglers to regret that a 115-pound maid of five feet four who could climb down a rope ladder from a racing locomotive one day and the next hold her own with California's real estate men should thus have to depart in her prime. That is a paradoxical mischance not confined to her profession or locale.

BASEBALL SALARIES

Big salaries are always interesting, even if they are pulled down by someone else. Topnotch baseball players draw some fancy salaries, although not in the class with those paid the most famous picture and radio stars.

At present the highest-paid individual baseball player is Lou Gehrig, the veteran first baseman and slugger of the New York Yankees, who receives $30,000 a season. He has played in more consecutive games than any other player in the history of baseball, not having missed taking part in any game played by his team for more than 12 years.

Joe DiMaggio, also of the Yankees, is the highest paid youngster in the game, now drawing $17,000 in his second season with the team. He is one of the greatest batters developed in recent years.

The largest salary paid to a rookie is $10,000 to Bob Feller, the sensational young pitcher of the Cleveland Indians. He has been out of the game most of the season, however, with a lame arm.

Babe Ruth holds the record as the highest paid baseball player of all time, having received $70,000 a season a few years ago. And as a drawing card he was worth it. Yet many boys will turn up their noses at baseball as too plebeian. They would rather do the course in par and pay for the privilege of playing.

There is no tipping in a hick town. You can't tip a fellow who may be your bridge partner tonight.

It isn't a real boom yet. People don't yet trade in a good car just because the radiator ornament changes.

Huey started this share-the-wealth idea, but he didn't think up the scheme of taxing undivided profits.

Foreign merchant announces that he is leaving China forever. With real business acumen, he feels that it's better to lose your profits than your hide.

Some of the more eager of the Roosevelt critics are sort of out-doing themselves. They are already deep in a denunciation of the president's third term.

With the injection of such epithets as "curs," "dogs" and "pirates," the language of diplomacy is beginning to assume a somewhat more robust character.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

THROWING MISSILES

One may walk along the street in a lovely section of any city and be pelted by pebbles which some youngster from three to five throws at him just for fun. An older child may throw stones or snowballs against the windows of one's car in passing. Occasionally a car window is broken in this manner. One would hardly observe anything of this sort in an European city, nor hardly in a "foreign" section of a city in this country. Nor do children in European cities run pell mell into the streets, deface signs and walls of public vehicles or annoy other passengers, nor steal rides on milk or ice wagons or on the rear of trolley cars. Naturally foreign visitors to our country comment on the bad conduct of our children toward the public.

Usually I can manage not to be much vexed at the child who, for amusement, will throw things at me as I pass on the street, but I do feel vexed at his parents, especially if they happen to be looking on with indifference. My chief thought then is about the moral ill to the offending child. He is learning to disrespect the rights of others, being a positive public menace.

Throw At Those They Dislike.

Also many children learn early to throw stones at persons they don't like, especially at other children. Sometimes a battle with sticks and stones is begun in this manner. As a result many serious injuries may occur—even eyes be put out. You may know some adult who has gone about with only one eye, or in total darkness because some playmate in his childhood threw a stone at him. The child who throws the first stone may be the victim, since its throwing induces others to throw back at him.

To parents who really care: Let me entreat you to begin to train the child as soon as he can toddle never to throw stones and the like at any person or animal. For the first and each offense thereafter give this child instant physical pain, preferably a sound smacking on his bare bottom. For the child over four or five a paddle may be desirable.

Make clear to the child that even when others throw things at him he must not throw things at them, but must come away. On the other hand, encourage him to use his bare fists in self-defense, being careful to see that he is not the aggressor. But as to sticks and stones, make their use in combat or play a serious punishable offense. Teachers would be very grateful if all children were so trained before they entered school.

WHAT DO YOU WANT?

Was that you I heard complaining? Was that you I heard crying your dissatisfaction along the city street? Was that your sad face I saw as I turned the corner? If it was, come right in, son, and let me hear your sad, sad story.

I'll sit here, you sit there. You talk, I'll listen.

But before you start, let me say a few things, some of which I have read, some of which I have observed, some of which I have heard from the lips of wiser men.

I think I know that you want life handed to you on a silver platter. You walk the crowded streets among common men and women who must work for what they get and you've not learned this simple truth . . . You have not learned, I'll guess, to Take the First Step. And the first step is most important of all.

You cry out for happiness, but happiness must be achieved. Some men and women seem to be born happy, but the great majority of us must work for it, build our lives in such a pattern that happiness fits into it naturally.

You complain that you have no friends. But we must earn friendship. We do not find it, as you find a lost coin in the street.

You say that life is "against" you, but you're quite mistaken. Life is neither against you nor for you; it is indifferent. It will not take the first step toward you; you must take it. The fish in the stream may wait in the rushing waters for its food to come its way, but remember that the fish PLACES himself where the food is most plentiful.

And now tell your story . . . And if you still insist that you are a Special Case—and that nobody understands you—and it's all the Other Fellow's fault—then I'm afraid that your case is hopeless and you are too tired or too lazy to Take the First Step.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL: I am going to buy new dining room furniture. Tell me what pieces I should have and whether suits are in good taste—Bride.

Answer: Dining room furniture is usually sold in suites. If you know enough about furniture you may select individual pieces but they must be harmonious.

They should include a table, of course, two arm chairs and four or six side chairs according to your needs, a sideboard, China closet and a serving table.

Your table should be in the center of the room with two or four chairs surrounding it between meals. The serving table should be against the wall near the pantry door. The other pieces may be placed wherever convenient.

DEAR MISS MARKEL: How does one, politely, manage fishbones, grape seeds, etc., which must in some way be removed from the mouth?—Hick.

Answer: They should be removed with the thumb and first finger as gracefully and inoffensively as possible.

The World At A Glance

McGrady Joins Big Business.
Was Once Held Too Radical.
Other Corporations May Follow.

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Columnist

THERE IS MUCH moaning that Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, has been lost to the government. He went to the Radio Corporation of America, as director of industrial relations, with a salary of $20,000 a year, against $9,000 from the government.

A few years ago, incidentally, when McGrady was an organizer for the American Federation of Labor, he was driven out of a southern textile town violently as a "labor agitator."

McGrady is an excellent negotiator, calm, precise, kindly, able to see both sides. His years of experience—he is 62—give him a perspective on American labor organization that few other men have. But there are other men, young men, who have seen much of the last few years and who have been exceptionally capable in the labor field. These men are on both sides of the fence—employer and union. It is strange how a man, following years of negotiations, finds that his mind embraces both sides of the fence, that the problem lies far beyond the immediate antagonism over a condition.

Perhaps one of these young men could be obtained by the government. The $9,000 salary would seem a big sum to many of these men.

Perhaps, too, Secretary of Labor

Perkins could be induced to resign so that an actual "doer" would not have to be subordinated to a reputedly jealous functionary.

EXCHANGING OF MEN

Exchange of negotiators by the government, industry and the unions perhaps would prove of lasting benefit.

Probably more corporations should—and probably will—follow the policy of RCA and obtain industrial relations directors from the government or the unions.

By the same token, the government requires good administrators from private corporations.

These men are not prejudiced. They usually prove to be more impartial as judges and of deeper comprehension than men who sit on the bench.

Some corporations today employ as many persons as make up the population of an entire state. Furthermore, that personnel now has become a highly organized group. An administrator of broad understanding can save millions—can add tens of millions in good will and productive power.

On the other hand, the federal government has failed in too many instances because of lack of trained administrators, men in whom both sides can put their trust (no matter if they do dislike

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

EGGS WILL BE SCARCE

The fable regarding the killing of the goose that laid the golden eggs is known, I believe, by all people in the civilized world. Of course, one goose does not lay many eggs in her lifetime. In the United States we have many flocks of geese and these flocks have laid many golden eggs. They are capable of laying many more if political hunters will stack their guns for awhile.

The American citizen is faced with a very topey-turvy economical condition. The Federal and State governments are spending money like the proverbial drunken sailor. They are spending money as though it grew upon every tree and bush in the land. The great game of "soaking the rich" goes merrily on. American business is hamstrung by unnecessary laws and regulations. Not only are the surpluses which wise administrators have laid aside for a rainy day attacked and confiscated, but such rules are made that make it impossible for business to expand even in good times, let alone what will happen to America when the next depression hits us.

The craze of the present administration to establish what it calls "Social Security," is making the position of those who are responsible for the creation of wealth within the nation most insecure. It is all very well to provide work for those out of work, but anyone with only a few brains in his "noodle" can easily see that many and perhaps even the majority of those who are provided with work by the Federal and State governments at the public expense belong to the class for the most part of those who seek something for nothing. They even now go so far as to demand wages that are only paid to workers who are highly skilled and ambitious. In the effort to help labor, lopsided laws have been enacted and organizers of labor in their competition to recruit memberships, are occasioning strikes that are entirely uncalled for and daily causing more unemployment, more trouble and more loss, not only to labor, but to capital.

It does seem as though the present administration at Washington does not desire any citizen to make a great success in life. It does seem as though the laws that have been put upon the statute books are such that it would become impossible, eventually, to even pay the interest on the public debt.

Not one goose will be killed but flock after flock will be decimated.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK

I do not choose to whimper and complain.
I like to take what fate or luck bestows;
On picnic days I know it's apt to rain.
This life is just a blend of joys and woes.

I don't expect always to smile and sing.
And tune my voice to one exultant note.
But why is it I seldom catch a thing?
The bass won't bite when I am in the boat.

They tell great stories of the catches made.
I hear of those three-pounders they have hooked.
I've seen them in their buckets on parade.
I've even eaten them when they were cooked.

But always they were landed yesterday!
It is the lucky anglers whom I quote.
When I go out the bass are miles away—
They never bite when I am in the boat.

They'll catch a mess tomorrow when I'm gone.
They've always caught a string the day before.
But when I'm on the spot there won't be one.
Luck never follows when I leave the shore.

They tell great tales of fishing that have had.
But still I sit in silence as they gloat.
When I go out the fishing's always bad.
They never bite when I am in the boat.

been this column's recurrent theme that American school historians have ignorantly paid too much attention to politicians and generals, and too little to the men who have had the most effect upon American life.

Jenny was the engineer who, among other things, invented the skyscraper. In 1883 he invented for the Home Insurance office building in Chicago steel skeleton construction, providing for each story—walls, partitions and floors, to be carried independently on the columns. ## WINTER COVER CROPS PROTECT GARDEN SOIL

A winter cover crop may be sown now to improve the appearance of the garden and to save costly plant foods from leaching out of the top soil.

One peck for 7000 square feet of area or 6 to 7 pecks an acre is sufficient seed to use. This may be sown as soon as the crops have been harvested, or it may be sown between the rows of crops still to be harvested. The seed should be worked into the ground by shallow cultivation or hoeing.

PREVENT PULLED MOLT BY FEEDING PROPERLY

There are several causes of a fall molt in the pullet flock. Some of these are very early hatching; loss of body weight through improper feeding, disease, or parasites; moving the birds after production has started; or an inherited tendency for a winter pause, which is a breeding factor.

Although it is impossible to prevent molts in all pullet flocks, many of them can be, however, by proper feeding.

Pullets should gain in weight at the same time that they are laying. Some poultrymen make a practice of weighing a few birds at regular intervals to check on their condition. Others handle a few birds to find out the amount of flesh carried on their breast bones. If the pullets are thin, changes are made in the feeding program.

Using supplementary feeds, such as fattening mash or pellets, has aided in building body weight. Any of the commercial fattening mashes can be used for this purpose or a mixture of equal parts by weight of condensed milk, cornmeal and rolled oats will give good results. The home-made fattening mash should be fed at noon at the rate of three pounds to 100 birds. If necessary to build up body weight, a second feeding of fattening mash or pellets may be given to the birds in the evening after they have eaten their scratch feed.

Lights play an important part in increased feed consumption. If does not seem to make any difference whether they are used in the morning or evening or a combination of both as far as the results are concerned. The system followed will depend upon whether non-freezing fountains and a time clock are available. Time and cost of current and the schedule of working hours on the farm. Usually a 12 to 13-hour day is long enough for the birds.

If pullets have been allowed to lay on the range for any length of time before being housed, generally it is a good plan to start using lights on them as soon as they are confined to laying quarters. For other birds it usually is not wise to start using lights on them while production is increasing satisfactorily. After these birds have reached their peak and production starts to drop slightly, lights should be used in an attempt to prevent a further drop.

CLUB MEMBERS WILL SHOW AT PITTSBURGH

Thirteen western Pennsylvania counties have livestock 4-H club members eligible to exhibit at the Pittsburgh Livestock Show, October 19 and 20.

Counties with livestock clubs in this area are Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Cambria, Fayette, Indiana, Jefferson, Lawrence, Mercer, Somerset, Venango, Washington and Westmoreland. There are 64 members enrolled in baby beef clubs, 119 lamb club members and 370 pig club members.

Competition for cash awards is limited this year to 4-H club members and vocational agricultural students of the tri-state area of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The prizes will total $452.

Classes will include individual lambs, pens of three lambs, individual steers or heifers weighing from 700 to 800 pounds and from 801 to 950 pounds, individual steers over 950 pounds and individual barrows in two weight classes, 180 to 220 pounds and 221 to 275 pounds.

BEDBUGS MAKE LIFE MISERABLE FOR HENS

Bedbugs of the common variety and some of their close relatives are being found quite frequently in laying houses.

The bugs live in the nests, cracks in the walls, perches, perch supports, and dropping boards during the day but at night they crawl on the birds and suck their blood. These parasites multiply very rapidly and soon weaken the flock if measures are not used to destroy them.

All litter and nesting material should be removed and the house given a complete cleaning as the first step in an eradication program. Then the walls, perches, dropping boards, and nests should be sprayed with kerosene. This material should be forced into all cracks and crevices where the bugs might hide if satisfactory results are to be obtained.

CHOOSE BECOMING STYLE WHEN BUYING GARMENTS

Much is being said and written just now on the subject of buying. Women are awake to the importance of inspection of labels and of workmanship in the garments they buy.

But no matter how good the material, or how satisfactory the workmanship of your coats and dresses, disappointment lurks in the background if you have not been thoughtful in choosing the garment most becoming to you and your figure. Poor or hasty selection accounts for more mistakes in spending money than does scant seams and shoddy material.

The new magazines are full of the fall fashions—the new fabrics and the latest silhouette.

Fabrics are manufactured with the new silhouette in mind. The trend is toward smoother fabrics, and this means finer details in the garment design. The popular shirring, the rows of fine stitching or braid, or rows of self-covered buttons adapt themselves perfectly to the smooth rich crepes, alpaca, jerseys, and broadcloths.

No matter how much you like the new shirred and draped dresses, choose them carefully explains Miss Vogue. The broad shoulder effect, with swinging full skirt, is bound to attract the eye to the horizontal lines and make one look wider. You may need to restrict the amount of shirring to a moderate fullness on the shoulder and select a dress with the main interest in its faultless tailoring and interesting down-the-front closing. The coat dress is a new popular dress of this type.

The straight box silhouette is ideal for the fall trends. These materials may also be made up equally well in the slightly gored skirt and short fitted jacket.

Whatever your ensemble, have it a beautiful color harmony, always becoming to you. Black is popular, so is brown, and this fall a grayed blue is good. The reds tend toward the wine shades, but the rust shades are always good fall colors and harmonize best with brown. Remember when buying clothes, to select the colors that will harmonize with the garments you already have to begin the season.

Jury Commissioners B. Frank

Thorn and George Forrest, with Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard today drew a jury for a term of common pleas court to begin on November 8th. Usually when officials are sworn into office it suffices for the transaction of any business in their departments. Not so with the jury commissioners. Every time they draw a jury they must go into the prothonotary's office and be sworn. It is an old law and one which many believe should be repealed.

Can a dog be taught to track articles of steel, wood, or other materials, the same as he is taught to track rabbits, follow the scent of a racoon? The question was raised before a jury at court yesterday by Attorney Errol Fullerton, who pointed out that it was claimed that two dogs had located some steel chisels in a clump of weeds. Fullerton was disposed to doubt the dogs' efficiency in tracking steel chisels. He couldn't see how they could follow the scent, unless the chisels were dragged along the ground on a string.

Attorney Raymond W. Humphrey of Ellwood City, candidate for Judge on the Democratic ticket at the recent primary, has filed his expense account at the county commissioners' office, showing that he expended $765.19 during his campaign. Most of it went for advertising, watchers at the polls and transportation of voters. B. I. French, candidate for city council, filed an account showing that he had expended $66.24. J. H. Crites, another candidate for city council has filed an account showing that he expended less than $50.

The Union Trust Company, guardian of William L. Patterson has filed a confession of judgment at the prothonotary's office against Samuel R. and Elizabeth McKinney, in which it is claimed that there is due the guardian $6,295.82. Daylight Time Ends On Sunday Some Effect Here Though City Has Not Been Observing Daylight Savings Schedule

Those of us who in the past three months have been suffering from clockitis, that strange affliction in which you arrive at your destination on time only to find yourself an hour late, should find ourselves completely cured tomorrow. For all the clocks in neighboring towns that have spent the summer one hour out in front will be forced to get back in step. The East says farewell to Daylight Savings time Sunday as the hour hands are once more placed on an even keel.

Although New Castle clocks have not been affiliated with the Time Saving Union for several years, we are nevertheless involved. Very few of us can truthfully say that we didn't miss a boat, train or radio program somewhere along the line in the shuffle of the hours. Then there's the little matter of getting there before things open or after they close. It's all very confusing.

Summer is now something that has been put away with the linen suit and the bathing trunks in a bottom drawer. And winter can be just as cold no matter what time your on.

AROUND CITY HALL City Engineer Glenn R. Throop said today that the engineering and street departments are faced with a problem that is causing them concern. The two bureaus want to put dirt streets in condition for winter travel. Throop said that whenever streets are scraped and crowned residents raise complaints, because the oil which was placed on thoroughfares naturally no longer does any good toward keeping down dust. Throop said that with the arrival of the first storm the two departments would go into heavy action and proceed for what they believe is the best for all concerned.

With the coming of cold weather it might be a good idea for people to clean up their yards and get rid of the rubbish that has accumulated. If this is done, according to city hall attaches, yards will be in better appearance when the first breezes of spring blow.

North Beaver MEMBERS HEAR EX-MASTER Past State Master E. B. Dorsett of Tioga was the speaker when 15 members of North Beaver grange attended a "booster meeting" at the Big Beaver grange hall, near New Galilee, this week.

The North Beaver group held its regular meeting in the hall near Moravia on Friday evening, September 17. After the business meeting the lecture hour was conducted in charge of the lecturer of the Unity grange of Columbiana county, O. Fifty Unity members were guests.

Lunch was served by the North Beaver ladies and a social period was enjoyed by the young people.

Jury Commissioners B. Frank

Thorn and George Forrest, with Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard today drew a jury for a term of common pleas court to begin on November 8th. Usually when officials are sworn into office it suffices for the transaction of any business in their departments. Not so with the jury commissioners. Every time they draw a jury they must go into the prothonotary's office and be sworn. It is an old law and one which many believe should be repealed.

City Rescue Mission Observes 25th Anniversary

Week's Program To Open Sunday

Afternoon Meeting In First Baptist Church On Sunday To Feature

JUBILEE SINGERS TO AID IN EVENT

A quarter-century of fruitful community service will be celebrated when the City Rescue Mission, founded in a Croton avenue store-room back in 1912, opens its week-long 25th anniversary program on Sunday.

The silver jubilee observance has been in the planning for months.

It was the late Robert McKinney, Mrs. A. W. Gibson, a prominent business leader here, who envisioned the need of a mission together with other Christian gentlemen, and they founded one shortly after Billy Sunday's 1912 campaign. Since then it has served continuously, now at 17 South Mercer street.

Cleveland Is Coming.
Coming for the opening mission observance will be one of the mission organizers, the Rev. George Soerheide, now superintendent of Cleveland's City Rescue Mission. He will speak and the talented Spiritual Jubilee Singers from Chicago will sing at the special Sunday programs.

At 11 tomorrow morning the singers will be heard at the Epworth M. E. church. Tomorrow afternoon the public will attend an anniversary mass meeting in the First Baptist church, and at 7:30 in the evening the mission party will appear at the Croton M. E.

Superintendent Archie Gibson, who came here to assume the mission leadership with Mrs. Gibson last March 1, has organized a full week's program. Mrs. Gibson is head of the women's work organization of the mission.

Assisting in the congregational singing at the different churches tomorrow will be Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gregory of the Cleveland mission which Mr. Soerheide heads.

Announce Week's Program.
The complete week's program: Sunday at 11, Epworth M. E.; Sunday at 3, mass meeting in First Baptist; Sunday at 7:30, Croton M. E.

Monday evening at 7:30 at the mission. Home coming night and history of the mission. Jubilee Singers and other.

Tuesday evening—"Converts Night" at mission. Spiritual Jubilee Singers.

Wednesday evening—At the Central Christian church. Spiritual Singers. A. W. Gibson, speaker.

Thursday evening—Second U. P. church. Spiritual Jubilee Singers. Friday evening—First Christian church. Spiritual Jubilee Singers.

Saturday evening—"Mission Night" at the mission. Spiritual Jubilee Singers.

Sunday, Oct. 3, at 11—First Baptist church.

3 p. m.—Mass meeting; Spiritual Jubilee Singers; "Why I Believe in Rescue Missions." A. W. Gibson.

7:30 p. m.—Spiritual Jubilee Singers; Dr. Heaton.

Sunday, Sept. 26, and Oct. 3—The gospel singing will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gregory of Cleveland.

Rev. T. B. Shearer Is Being Heard In Series Of Sermons

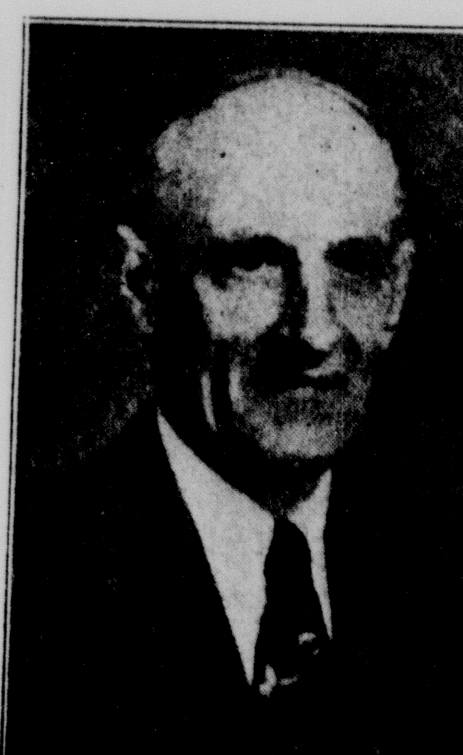

Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor, will on Sunday evening deliver at the Central Christian church the third of a series of sermons on "The Church." The subject tomorrow night will be "The Church Is Born."

Rev. Shearer is also conducting a question box. Questions are received in writing each Sunday and answered on the following Sunday.

Leaders In Mission Program

REV. GEORGE SOERHEIDE

REV. A. W. GIBSON

Not long after the oft-recalled 1912 campaign of the late Billy Sunday the City Rescue Mission was founded here—and for one week, commencing Sunday, the organization observed its 25th anniversary with special services. Rev. Gibson is its present superintendent. Rev. Soerheide heads Cleveland's City Mission.

Local Young Man Will Be Ordained

Ordination Of Rev. W. T. Hempel Sunday Night At St. Paul's Lutheran

SYNOD PRESIDENT TO BE IN CHARGE

Rev. Hempel Son Of Local Congregation Accepts Call To McDonald, Pa.

REV. W. T. HEMPEL

Sunday, September 26, will be a memorable day in St. Paul's Lutheran church, where the Rev. A. M. Stump is pastor. At both the morning and evening services, 10:40 and 11:40, Harvest Home Festival will be observed in grateful recognition to God who has blessed his people with another fruitful year and rich harvests.

Ordination At 7:30 P. M.
Since the harvest festival is the presentation of the First Fruits to the Lord it is very fitting that Walter Thomas Hempel, a son of the congregation, will be ordained into the Gospel ministry this same day at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Hempel is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hempel of 1112 Howard Way, this city, and was born, baptized, confirmed and educated as a member of St. Paul's church. He graduated from Thiel College at Greenville in 1934, and entered the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, the same year and was graduated there in May, 1937. Since the first of June he has had charge of the First Evangelical Lutheran church of McDonald, Pa., to which congregation he has received and accepted a formal call as pastor.

Officiating Clergy

He will be ordained by the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church of America in St. Paul's church, and the president of the Synod, the Rev. Henry H. Bagger, D. D., the president of the West Conference, Rev. A. M. Stump, Rev. J. Richard Booth of Beaver Falls, Rev. P. H. R. Mullen, D. D., Missionary superintendent, Rev. P. E. Stough of St. John's and Rev. P. J. Tau of Bethany church, both of this city will be the officiating clergy for the ordination service.

Messrs. Walter T. Hempel and Michael B. Golder are the members of the body of the congregation to dedicate themselves to the Gospel Ministry. Rev. Golder was graduated from the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, Pa., and now is pastor of the Ringgold parish with his residence at Timblin, Pa.

Rev. Hempel is to be installed as pastor of the McDonald parish on October 10 at 3 p. m., the president of Synod and his home pastor to officiate.

Rev. Rose Will Preach Sunday

New Pastor Of Second U. P. Church Will Take Up Work Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow the Second U. P. church people of New Castle will welcome their new pastor, the youthful Rev. J. Calvin Rose, a native of Lawrence county, who comes here from the United Presbyterian church of Connequenessing in Butler presbytery. Rev. Rose will preach at both the morning and evening services.

Evangelist Will Give Life Story

Rev. Oliver Morgan Will Tell Experiences Sunday At Nazarene Church

Rev. Oliver Morgan, the "Hoosier Evangelist", who is conducting revival meetings at the Nazarene church, Falls and Beaver streets, will tell his life story at the Sunday morning preaching hour, 10:30 o'clock.

The 2:30 p. m. service Sunday will be a rally for the holiness people of Lawrence county. The evangelist's subject Sunday night will be "Where Are You Going When You Die?" Miss Ruth Morgan will play accompaniment and sing special numbers in song, at each service. Local singers will also assist in the music.

The 9:30 a. m. Sunday school service is to be a district-wide rally. Each one of the 119 Sunday schools in the Pittsburgh district is to work for a large attendance on this day. The revival meetings will continue every night of next week except Saturday, with a special feature planned for every service.

Homecoming At Central Church

Re-beautiful Central Presbyterian To Be Scene Of Celebration

FORMER PASTORS GUEST PREACHERS

Central Presbyterian church on the public square, where a program of extensive improvements including new illumination, new carpeting, new decoration, new draperies and other accessories has just been completed, will be formally reopened on Sunday and will have an appropriate celebration.

It will be "homecoming day" too, and the many friends and former members of the congregation are being invited back for these special services.

The Sabbath school will observe its fall rally at 9:30 a. m. and make the necessary promotions. George R. McClelland will be in charge. At 11 a. m. Rev. S. M. F. Nesbitt, D. D., of Wooster, Ohio, will preach the opening sermon. Dr. Nesbitt was a former pastor of the Central church and served last year as the moderator of the synod of Ohio. His theme will be "The Greater Works."

At 7:45 p. m. Rev. A. B. McCormick, D. D., of Oil City, will preach the sermon. He was also a former pastor and now serves as editor of the Presbyterian Banner.

The four Presbyterian churches of this city and the First Christian church will join in this union service. Dr. C. Schnebly and Rev. J. J. Fredericks will assist in this service and bring greetings.

Spiritualists Are In Conference Here

As a part of the 19th annual conference of the National Spiritualist Churches of the Soul, Rev. Oscar Brown, of Chicago, Ill., will deliver a sermon tonight in King Humbert hall, 110 East Division street. Rev. Mary Back Bishop will be the message bearer.

On Sunday at King Humbert hall there will be preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. by the Rev. Mary Mack Bishop and message services.

First Baptist Promotion Day

Sunday morning's Sunday school and worship hour at the First Baptist church will be of particular interest, especially to the young people for the promotion exercises will be conducted.

As a special feature there will be music by Don Potter's Easy Side Civic Orchestra.

Evangelist From Ireland To Preach

Miss May Decker, of Belfast, Ireland, will be in New Castle for the next two weeks to conduct special services in the Christian and Missionary Alliance Tabernacle on Pearson street.

She will be heard first on Sunday morning and then each evening with the exception of Saturday.

Miss Decker was here a few years ago and is one of the outstanding evangelists in the Alliance church.

Plan Development At Castle Hills

New Homes Will Be Built In Area Surrounding Golf Course

Work has been started on the development of Castle Hills Manor, that area surrounding the Castle Hills golf course in Neshannock township, where ten new houses will be erected at once.

Contract for the development of the area has been given to Karl T. Rohrer, who has already broken ground for two homes, which will be of brick.

The area is to be a restricted one, the roads are to be paved, with serpentine drives, and the home will have all modern conveniences.

Sabbath Schools Will Convene At Rich Hill Church

Wilmington District Convention Will Take Place On October 3

Nine churches of Wilmington district, Lawrence County Sabbath School association, will unite for their annual convention to be held in the Rich Hill Presbyterian church near Volant, Sunday, October 3, with afternoon and evening sessions.

Charles Corman, superintendent of the Rich Hill Sunday school, will lead the devotionals at the afternoon session opening at 2 o'clock.

A special feature of the afternoon will be several musical numbers by Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Fulton and their son and daughter of Plaingrove.

Rev. Robert Douglass, pastor of the East Brook U. P. church, and Alex C. Burr, dean of Westminster college, will give addresses at this session.

The evening devotional service beginning at 7:45, will be led by Rev. D. King Kerr, pastor of the convention church. Following the installation of officers by Robert M. Strickler, Jr., county president, the young people of the Rich Hill church will present a pageant.

The churches included in the district are the Presbyterian and Methodist of East Brook, the Presbyterian and Methodist of Volant, Shenango U. P., Rich Hill Presbyterian, the United Presbyterian, Presbyterian and Methodist of New Wilmington.

Clergymen Will Resume Program

Rev. Dr. Robert Perry Will Be Speaker At Ministers' Meeting Monday

NEW OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

The first meeting of the fall will be held by the New Castle Ministerial Association on Monday morning, September 27, at 10:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, corner of North Jefferson and Falls streets.

Of particular interest will be the speaker of the morning, the Rev. Robert Perry. Rev. Perry is a son of one of New Castle's well known families, Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Perry.

He received his A. B. degree at Princeton his B. D. degree at Union Seminary, and this spring received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Edinburgh, at Edinburgh, Scotland.

Following graduation, he made a tour of all the countries of Europe, so comes well prepared to speak on the subject which he has chosen, "Protestant Christianity in Europe."

The association's membership includes representatives from several church groups, and a special invitation is extended to those ministers who have just recently taken up pastorates in the city and also those who have not been attending the meetings.

During the business session, the officers for the year will be elected, but preceding the meeting, at ten o'clock, the nominating committee, Rev. Stump, Rev. Winger, and Rev. Withers, will meet.

New Pastor To Preach Sunday

Rev. J. A. Cousins Will Occupy Pulpit In Croton M. E. Church For First Time

TO MOVE HERE DURING WEEK

Rev. J. A. Cousins, new pastor of the Croton Avenue M. E. church, will be here Sunday to occupy the pulpit at the morning service, when he will be greeted by a large congregation.

He comes here from the Oakland Avenue M. E. church in Sharon, where he has been located for the past two years.

Rev. Cousins and family expect to move to New Castle during the coming week, and will find a cheerful paragon awaiting them, the congregation having recently had the paragon newly painted.

At the evening service, Sunday, Rev. Archie Gibson, of the City Mission will have charge, and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. George Soerhede, of the City Rescue Mission in Cleveland, who will be accompanied by the Jubilee Singers.

The Croton Avenue M. E. church was one of the two churches which laid the foundation for the founding of the City Mission, 25 years ago, and because of this fact, the services Sunday evening will be of a significant nature.

Jubilee Singers At Epworth Church

As a special feature of the 11 o'clock worship at Epworth church Sunday morning, the Spiritual Jubilee singers of Chicago, Ill., who are appearing at the City Mission, will present three numbers of Negro spirituals. These singers, five in number, are cultured as well as gifted in the peculiar Negro quality of voice.

Unione Calabro Election Sunday

Members of Unione Calabro-Americana Poeta Franco Berardelli will elect new officers, Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, when they gather for their monthly meeting in their clubrooms, 211 Division street, President Marobito announced.

After the election, the group will enjoy an informal party.

was born in Tokyo, Japan. Other birthdays: Vina Vray Saunders, b. 1907, photoplay actress known as Fay Ray; Thomas Hunt Morgan, b. 1866, Padadena scientist and Nobel prizewinner in medicine; William Faulkner, b. 1897, novelist. The novel that brought him first recognition ("Sanctuary") was written in three weeks.

SUNDAY
On Other Sept. 26th—1777—The U. S. was without a capital. Congress fled as the British entered Philadelphia. Next day, Lancaster, Pa. became the capital for a few hours, then the government was moved to York, making it one of nine capitals in U. S. history.

1789—A clergyman, Rev. Samuel Osgood, 77, of Andover, Mass., became the first postmaster-general of the United States from the Constitution.

75 Years Ago Sunday—Capt. James Fisk's expedition, consisting of 100 men and women and children from Minnesota, arrived at Gold Creek, Deer Lodge county, became Montana pioneers. (Francis Finley, half-breed Scotch-Indian trader, had made first discovery of gold in Montana at Gold Creek, 10 years before).

1891—Christian, king of Denmark, was born. He is tallest of modern monarchs—6 ft. 6 in. An other birthday: George Raft, b. 1903, photoplay actor.

their judgments). Thus the government ought to draft administrators from private industry. And private industry ought to take its personnel administrators, not merely from the government, but from the public, particularly the CIO, which has done a remarkable job of organizing and holding a personnel in line.

OLD METHODS GOING?
With such men as McGrady going to private corporations, the days of spies, vigilantism, terrorism may be passing. We still hear of it. We still read testimony of terrible retribution against men for joining a union or trying to organize workers. We still hear of strikebreakers, of national guardsmen and police shooting men down, of politicians "owned" by corporations.

But public opinion and losses in earnings are doing such methods.

The McGradys will do much toward outlawing the "diehards" and their methods.

GOOD WILL GRADUATES

Thursday members of the Good Will Graduates club held their first meeting of the fall season. The early part of the evening was spent discussing vacations.

The meeting was turned over to vice president, Clara Isolda when plans were made to finish the remodeling of their club room.

Later, their supervisor, Miss Dorothy Stewart, invited the group to her home in Butler where a wiener roast will be held October 2.

The group then joined the other business girls, when members who attended the summer conference in Aurora, N. Y., gave their reports. Plans were made for the fall conference to be held here.

The next meeting will be Thursday Sept. 30. Election of officers will be held.

LIBRARY WORK PROGRESSES

Plastering work and other phases of construction are progressing at the new Free Public Library at North and Mercer streets. The framework of a new stairway inside the Mercer street entrance, leading to the second floor children's rooms, has been installed.

Movie Star In Divorce Tangle

Willard J. Orr Charges Actor Paul Lukas With Flirting With Wife

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Court fans today eagerly waited to hear whether cupid actually was a partner in the real estate deal between Paul Lukas, handsome film actor, and Mrs. Florence Orr.

Blond and pretty, Mrs. Orr was scheduled to take the witness stand in a legal battle with her divorced husband, Willard J. Orr, over the custody of their two small children.

In his testimony yesterday Orr cited the ardent suit of Lukas and several other men to prove she was unfit to have custody of the children.

Met in Hollywood
Orr said it was some time before their divorce that she met Lukas while trying to rent him a home in Hollywood.

"When she came home she told me that she had been showing him a house and he suddenly dropped on one knee and cried:

"There is something in your eyes I have never seen in any other woman's. Give me your love."

"She said she was 'thrilled.' I warned her to stay away from him and told her that all movie stars are flirts. But he kept calling her on the phone. And so she went to see him again."

Mrs. Orr, according to her husband, was also interested in a Mr. Levine and a Mr. Allen, both of whom she met during her work as a real estate agent in Beverly Hills, where she still lives.

News Briefs From City Hall

Mary Froelich, James D. Hays and H. Frank Ferguson, resolutions committee of the Associated Credit Bureau of Pennsylvania, have sent a resolution of thanks to Chief of Police R. A. Criswell and members of the police department, for the splendid treatment and courtesies extended the delegates while the association was in convention here.

James R. Locke, a lad of near Moore's Corner came to the city to see a motion picture last night and following the show was stranded in Croton avenue. Police took him in charge so he could safely spend the night. Mayor Charles E. McGrath sent the lad home this morning.

L. D. White, 401 LaFayette street, reported to police that someone entered his residence last night.

Chevrolet coupe, Pennsylvania license RH612, owned by William Riney of 633 Spruce street, was stolen from North Mercer street between North and Falls street last night, according to a report made to city police.

Chevrolet coupe with Ohio license K83D, owned by Angelo Fusco, 554 East Long avenue, was stolen from 18 Big Run street about 8 p. m. Friday, police were informed this morning.

Grace Lutton, 39 Dean block, told police last night she was enroute home from work when a young man wearing a white sweater seized her pocketbook when she reached the Public Square and Cochran alley.

City and State police were notified last yesterday that a man and two women, gypsies, fled a man who gave the name of Shaney in Beaver county and escaped via the Sunflower road, enroute to Zelle-nople.

Dunkin Petroleum company of Youngstown, placed their truck at an Elm street company to have repairs made and it was reported today to police that someone stole two steel-lined hoses from the car, worth about $50.00.

Officer Thomas Lynch reported to police headquarters Friday that Mrs. Mary Kelly of 128 East Long avenue, fell on the sidewalk in Long avenue and sustained an injury to her leg. She also had her spectacles broken.

Detectives Ray Showalter and Detectives John Moore and John Young reported having recovered a camera lens said to have been stolen some time ago from Walter F. Kwolek, 252½ East Washington street.

British Aid To China, Charged

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Sensational charges of British aid to China in the Sino-Japanese conflict were hurled today by Lt. Colonel Tan Takahashi, chief of the China section of the general staff of the Japanese army.

"British lent China her support," Takahashi flatly declared. "Both morally and financially."

The 44-year-old military leader, who is visiting the United States on an "observation tour," said: "The conflict will end soon, and I'm speaking in terms of months, not years."

"But, if the British government continues to assist the Chinese government, China will be able to resist much longer."

CATHERINE CONTI TO BE GRADUATED

Among the graduates of the nurses' training school of St. Joseph's hospital, Pittsburgh, Sept. 28 will be Miss Catherine Conti of 719 East Long avenue. The graduation exercises will be held in the Catholic high school.

Following her graduation as a nurse Miss Conti expects to take post-graduate work relating to her profession in Duquesne university.

Parking Prohibited On P. & L. E. Grounds Police Are Informed

Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell today received information from the P. & L. E. railroad company that parking is prohibited on their property, on the west driveway east of Dufford's store to Produce street. Their property is the driveway which runs south from Washington street and north from Produce street. It is reported by the P. & L. E. railroad that the movements have been blocked and for this reason parking now is forbidden.

Police Arrest Driver Of Auto Seventeen Taken By Police Squad

Patrolmen Tewell, Thompson, Thomas and Aliger visited the residence of Lynden Byers, 1127 Moravia street, at 2:45 a. m. today and arrested Byers on a charge of being the keeper of a disorderly house and 16 other persons on a charge of being visitors to a disorderly house. All of them were given their liberty on forfeits.

It was alleged by the officers they peeked through an opening in the house and saw gambling in progress. Some time elapsed between this discovery and the time the officers got into the house and evidence of the game was cleared away, they reported to superior officers.

Fifteen New Castles; Seven Ellwoods Shown In New Postal Guide

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 25.—Just off the press, the 1937 edition of the United States Postal Guide presents the information that there are 15 cities large enough to have post offices in 15 different states named New Castle.

The Postal Guide records the names of 45,000 communities having post offices. Many of these are similar although in widely separated parts of the nation, and this makes it difficult for postal officials to deliver letters unless they are properly inscribed with the name of the state.

For instance, when mail sorters find a letter addressed to New Castle they know it may be going to any one of 15 states. They have to look at the state address before tossing the envelope into the proper bag. For there are New Castles with post offices in Alabama, California, Colorado, Delaware, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Wyoming.

Some of the New Castles are spelled as two names and some as one, but that isn't much help to the postal workers.

Many Names Duplicated
In reality, there are surprisingly few cities without names claimed by other communities. In this select group which haven't any duplicates in other parts of the country are New Wilmington, Volant, Wampum and Slippery Rock. But while there is only one Slippery Rock, there is a Slippery Rock in Kentucky, and this makes for confusion.

Butler has more duplicates than any other community in the vicinity of New Castle. There are 15 Butlers. There are seven Ellwoods and five Merceers.

"Where's Elmer?"

The new Postal Guide answers that famous American Legion convention cry—"Where's Elmer?" The answer is in Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, and Oklahoma. Those states all have towns named Elmer.

In the competition for names in the Postal Guide, Roosevelt leads Hoover eight to two—and to top of that advantage there's a New Deal in Montana.

Names have been borrowed from many foreign countries to mark 100 per cent American communities. For instance, without leaving the United States, one may visit Rome, N. Y., Paris, N. Y., Moscow, Ark. Mexico, Ind., Holland, Ark., Ireland, Ind., Scotland, Conn., Wales, Mass., Poland, Me., and many others.

Thirteen Hollywoods
The guide discloses there are 13 Hollywoods in the United States. Female movie fans may be interested in the fact that there is but one Gable (South Carolina), but there are 13 Taylors (Arkansas, Arizona, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin).

There is a Bernie, Ind., wisely separated from Winchell, Tex., and there is an orchard, Va., Burns, Colo., and Allen, Ala., suggest another radio team.

Accident happens to be in Maryland, while Aid is far away in Missouri.

Salome is in Arizona, but Sultan is far off in Washington state.

Dingy, Bright, and Radiant are cities in different states. Detour is found in one state, Director in another.

Widely Separated

Wallis is in Texas, separated from Edward in New York, which probably is pleasing to Canterbury, Conn. Separated also in the postal guide are Farr, in Colo., and Louis, in Mississippi.

For the piece de resistance, there is Chicken, Alaska, Pigeon, Ky., Oldham, Ky., Sturgeon, Ky., and Pickering, Wisc. Vegetables may be selected from among the Greens in Kansas, Kentucky, and Texas; Potato Creek, South Dakota; Cranberry, N. C.; Peppers, N. C.

Some time you have lots of leisure on your hands, go down to the post office and ask Postmaster Steen to let you look at the Postal Guide. It's more fun than a cross word puzzle and more entertaining even than a new city directory.

TAKING JOY OUT OF WORKING JOY PLANT

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 25.—More than 100 employees of the Joy Manufacturing company plant, principally at the first street works, went on strike Friday following expiration of a six months' contract. The plant was picketed and trucks were barred from unloading by the strikers' representatives.

A similar situation six months ago was amicably settled.

PAINTS FLOWERS THAT "LOOK REAL"

(International News Service)
DEFIANCE, O., Sept. 25.—Mrs. Fern Cunningham, well-known Defiance artist, can paint flowers until they appear "almost real" and she can also raise them. A 12-foot hollyhock is attracting much attention at her home.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Legion Band Plans Concert At Ward Park

National Winners Of Legion Band Contest To Play October 11

Paul D. Weller, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Seventh Ward Civic club, announced today the appearance of the local American Legion Junior Band, in a concert at Liberty Park, in the Seventh Ward.

According to Weller this band will play the concert on Monday evening, October 11, and will be the bands' first concert since its return from the Legion convention in New York City, where the local group carried off first place honors in the nation.

The concert will be sponsored by the ward Civic club and will be given if the weather permits the outdoor performance. As this is the first concert since the return of the band from the convention, the ward people feel highly honored at having the opportunity of the first concert. Weller stated that if the weather did not permit the concert on that date it would be postponed for a few days, but will be presented as soon as possible.

MAHONING METHODIST

Sunday school services at 9:45 o'clock at the Mahoning Methodist church. At 11 o'clock morning sermon will be delivered by Rev. C. H. Hagadorn and his topic will be "The Power That Defeats Jesus." An object lesson for the children of the congregation will also be a part of the morning service. At 6:30 o'clock the first Epworth League meeting of the year will be held in the church. Miss Mary Louie Jolley will be leader of the meeting. At 7:45 o'clock the evening sermon will be delivered, and will be based on the topic, "The Christian Attitude Towards Life." During the evening services, officers of the Epworth League will be installed.

MAHONINGTOWN PRESBYTERIAN

Mahoningtown Presbyterian church corner Cedar and Cherry streets, Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor. Sunday school at 9:45 o'clock in charge of Arthur H. Walker, superintendent. Morning preaching service 11 o'clock, sermon topic: "Today And Tomorrow." Junior C. E. at 2:30 o'clock, and Senior C. E. at 7 o'clock in the evening. Evening service will be jointly with the Central Presbyterian church at the Central church beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Madison Avenue Christian church, West Madison avenue; Rev. Milton E. Shearer, pastor; Robert Park, superintendent; Mrs. C. H. Clark, pianist. Bible school at 9:45 o'clock, under the leadership of Superintendent Park. Morning worship and communion at 10:45 o'clock. Sermon theme, "The Tenth Hour Is Striking." Christian Endeavor at 6:45 o'clock. Evening service at 7:45 o'clock, with topic being "Is Jesus Christ Real?"

Cite Advantage Of Post Office In Seventh Ward

Many Features Found As Assets Of Value In Seventh Ward Postal Station

Many advantages may be found in the Mahoningtown branch post office, it has been learned. This station is known as an "independent branch station," and gives excellent service to its customers.

Although the station is controlled by the New Castle main office, the material mailed through this station does not go to the uptown office to be dispatched to the trains, but goes directly to the railroad station from the ward station.

In rush times such as the Christmas holiday season, this branch station relieves the main office of a great deal of congestion by taking care of many people from the South Side and many from the seventh ward who would otherwise go to the office on the public square.

The branch station is in charge of Superintendent Edwin McBride and employs six persons.

GETTING ALONG NICELY

Larry Hagadorn, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Hagadorn, of Newell avenue is reported to be getting along nicely.

Larry fell earlier this week and sustained a fractured collar bone, while playing in the yard of relatives home in Fredonia, N. Y.

BACK ON ROUTE

Jess Boak, rural mail carrier, out of the Mahoningtown Branch Post Office, has returned to his duties, after attending the Legion convention in New York City.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Harry Bridge of Bridgewater, Pa., was a Friday visitor in the ward. Paul Emis, R. D. 8, was a visitor in Youngstown, O., on Thursday. Charles Evans, Youngstown, O., spent Friday visiting with friends here.

Student Council May Be Formed

New Wilmington High School Students Petition Board For Right To Organize

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 25.—Realizing that there has been a need for a better relationship between the students and teachers in the New Wilmington high school for some time, representatives of the students recently presented to Dr. Hugh M. Hart, president of the school board, a petition which contained the signatures of 96 pupils and which asked the right to organize a student council for the purpose of sponsoring better fellowship within the school.

Several incidents last term resulted in a strained relationship between most of the students and their teachers and after observing the results obtained by a similar organization at Westminster college it was thought an organization of this sort might remedy the situation at the high school.

President Hart indicated that the matter would be brought up at the next board meeting which will be held Monday, October 4. He expects to have information from John C. Syling, county superintendent of public schools, concerning the state law in regards to such organizations.

N. Y. A. Student Aid Will Receive Cut

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—Government aid forthcoming a year ago to needy Pennsylvania students will be curtailed this year.

Aubrey Williams, executive director of the National Youth Administration, told college and high school officials at a banquet Friday night that a reduction in NYA funds would force the cutting of Pennsylvania's quota of students from 32,000 a year to 21,000.

Students enrolled in the program do work for which the school district ordinarily would not expend money.

Review Board For Scouts On September 28

September Court Of Honor Will Be Held On Thursday Evening Next Week

Board of review for scouts in the Lawrence County council has been scheduled for Tuesday evening, September 28, in the scout office in the Greer building.

At this review, scouts wishing promotion at the September court will be examined by the court committee. Those passed will receive advancements in rank at the September Court of Honor, which has been called for Thursday evening, September 30.

This court will be in St. Paul's Lutheran church and Dr. R. C. Lutz, chairman of the court committee, will be in charge.

Credit Bureaus Praise Treatment Of Citizens Here

Resolutions Committee Expresses Thanks Of Members For Fine Reception

Praise for the fine treatment accorded the delegates to the annual convention of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Pennsylvania, during their convention here the first of the week, was given by the resolutions committee, which in behalf of the delegates expressed the thanks of the membership for all the courtesies extended them.

It was one of the finest conventions that the state association has held, and much of the success was due to the efforts of those on the local committees which had charge of the arrangements for the entertainment of the guests while here.

Celebrate 60 Years Of Married Life

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Sutton of Chicora, R. D., recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at Modoc, the farm home where they have spent nearly 58 years of their married life. Mrs. Sutton is the former Amy Byers and is 78 years of age. Mr. Sutton is 81. They have 11 children and 16 grandchildren.

Guy W. Sutton of Butler, Mrs. Ida Cochran of Grand Rapids, Mich., Mildred of Pittsburgh, Harold of Detroit and Bruce of Alliquippa were the children who were present to help celebrate the day and enjoy a picnic dinner.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

CROWD AT CORN ROAST

The youth of the "Y" turned out in great numbers this morning for the gala corn roast which the boys' department, under the direction of John Thompson, sponsored as the opening event of the 1937-38 season. From 9 o'clock until past noon the department room and the banquet hall echoed with whoops of the participants.

FORM NEW UNION CLUB

A new Junior Hi-Y club is being organized at Union Township high school. Activities Director Henry T. MacNicholas reports. Don McGrew of the Union faculty will be its advisor.

THINKING OF CONVENTION

Ellwood City will be the next host to the Y. M. C. A.'s Western Pennsylvania Young Men's conference and it is understood that, while the convention doesn't come until next April, the Ellwood Phalanx organization and Gradsale group are already giving thought to the plans.

September 25.

Dear Brother Lion:
Our meeting next Tuesday will be for business only.

There are a number of important matters of interest to come before us. We urge every member to be present.

We will initiate two new members. Very truly yours,

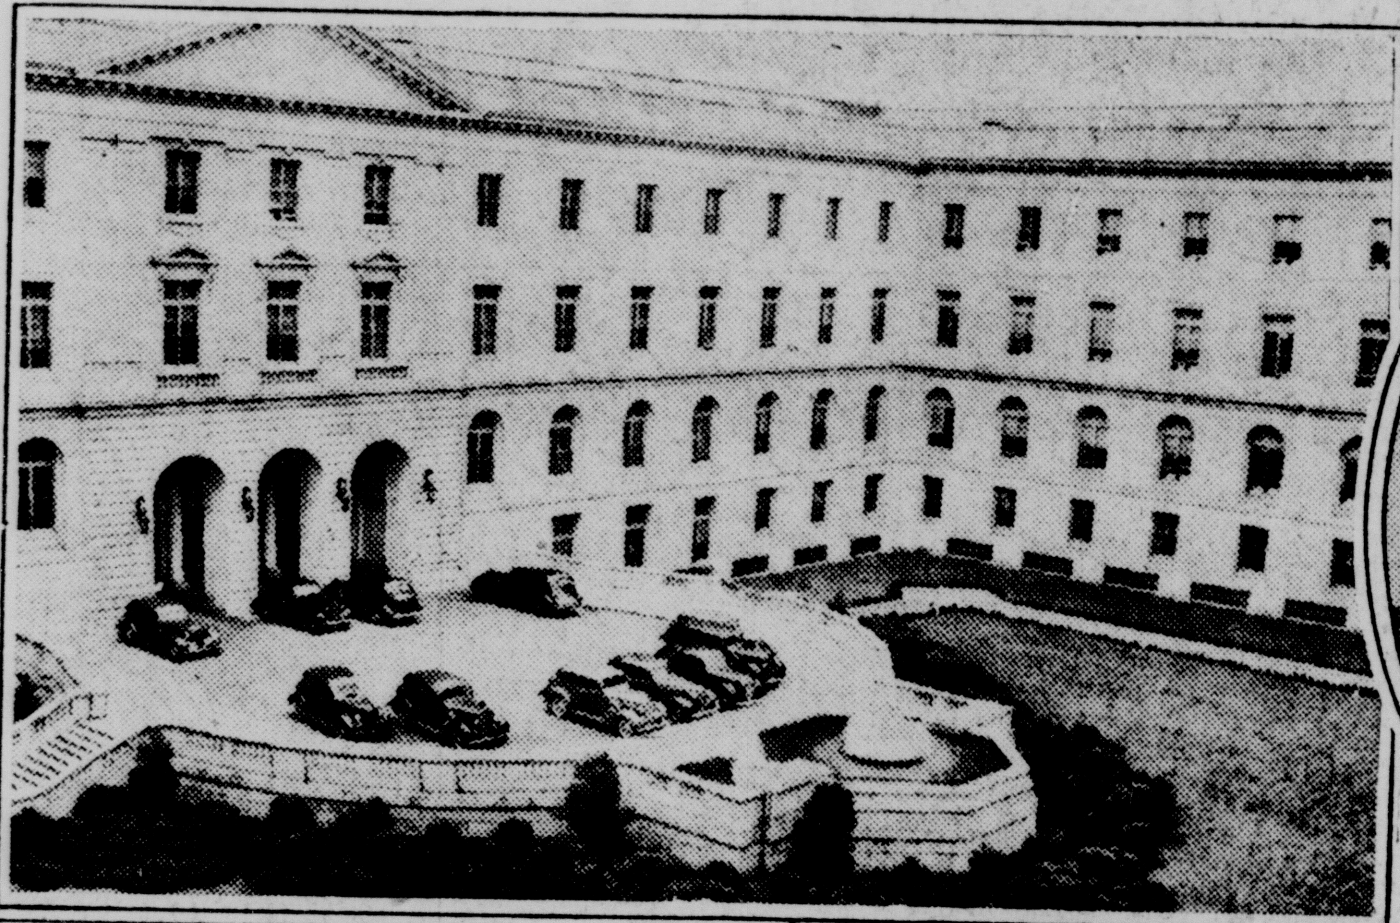

THOMAS I. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

COSGROVE IS GUILTY OF BREAKING INTO TOOL HOUSE OF WPA

James Cosgrove was found guilty at Lawrence county court on Friday of breaking and entering the WPA tool house on Croton avenue and stealing some chisels, picks and shovels. He had been a watchman at the tool house, but on the night of the robbery does not appear to have been on duty. J. A. Hill, who lives near the tool house identified Cosgrove as a man he had seen entering the building. A pawnbroker claimed that a man giving his name as White had sold him some chisels for 20 cents. Cosgrove had accounted for the chisels by claiming that his dogs had spoiled them in some bushes. Attorney Errol Fullerton ridiculed the idea that a dog could be trained to track chisels.

The use of low growing herbaceous plants to bloom along with the spring flowering bulbs is a growing custom. Forget-me-nots, pansies, English daisies and bluebells are often used and should be planted at the same time as the bulbs.

Yankees No Better Army Grid Series Than Even Money

Stagg Started Coaching Same Year And Introduced Many Innovations

Bookmakers Believe Giants Are In And Cubs Are Out

BETTORS BELIEVE GIANTS ARE "HOT"

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Along Broadway today several of the leading bookmakers say the Yankees will not be any better than even money against the Giants in the world series.

They are taking for granted, of course, that the Cubs haven't a chance to win the National league bunting.

The bookies are basing their forecast on the fighting qualities of the Giants, on the fact that the further "hot" right now, on the further fact that they have won two games in Melton and Hubbell, and on the obvious supposition that a lefthander can stop the Yankees.

We can string along with the bookies on everything but the crack. Nobody is going to bet the Yankees merely because he throws with his left hand. Only a very good lefthander enjoying one of his best days is going to bet the Yankees and if he beats them it will not be because he is lefthanded but rather because he is pitching great ball.

The same applies to a lefthander. It's true that Gehrig, Dickey and Selkirk are lefthanded hitters but nobody has ever noticed that they were particularly weak against lefthanded pitchers. And it must not be overlooked that DiMaggio, Lazzeri, Hoag, Crossetti and Powell are right-hand hitters and they don't figure to be round-heeled against any lefthander.

Never Hot Against Yankees.

Lefty Grove has been a pretty fair country lefthander for many years but he never was a ball of fire against the Yankees. And it must be remembered, too, that the Yankees have a pretty fair lefthander himself. He is in Senior Lefty Gomez, who beats the Giants twice last fall and he may repeat.

In the last two starts were three and four-hit shutouts so it may be assumed that Goofy Senior is pretty hot himself right now.

The Yankees beat Archie McKain, who is decidedly lefthanded, in Boston yesterday by a 3 to 1 count, and did it with Joe Vance, a rookie lefthander, who gave only four rightouts, including a homer by Joe Cronin in the eighth innings he worked before giving way to a pinch hit. Red Rolfe's triple with the bases loaded broke up the pastime in the ninth.

In the only other game the Indians trimmed the Tigers, 2-1, on Galehouse's six-hit pitching.

The Cubs and Cardinals were rained out and the only other game in the National league produced an 8-2 victory for the Pirates over the Reds. The Pirates counted six times in the sixth when five hits and four errors by the Reds.

LIONS CONFIDENT AGAINST CORNELL

State Has Light, Fast, Tricky, Veteran Backfield

(International News Service)

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 25.—A confident Penn State eleven will trot out on Schoellkopf field this afternoon to meet Cornell in upstate New York's biggest football attraction of the day. It is the opening game in the fifty-first gridiron season of both institutions.

With a light, speedy, deceptive and veteran backfield, the Nittany Lions have the edge on Cornell in that department. Harry Harrison, Co-Captain Sammy Donato average 165 pounds, compared with 178 for the inexperienced big backs including three sophomores. Only George Peck, the fleet Cornell half-back, has had varsity experience. Coach Carl Snavely must bring Eli Hooper out of the line at guard to do the punting so scarce is the material.

Has Veteran Line

Cornell will offer a veteran line which its supporters hope will compensate for a green backfield. Only Captain Ted Hughes, center, will be missing from the starting line-up. He is recovering from a knee injury. Absent from the Lions' forward wall are Co-Captain Economos, guard, and Carl Waugaman, end, who are out with pre-season injuries.

The game is the tenth in the series, both teams being tied with four victories and one deadlock.

Don Budge And German Clash Today

Budge And Mako Fall Before Hughes And Hare

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—For the fourth time this year Don Budge, and Baron Gottfried Von Cramm of Germany will meet today for another tennis championship. The two will battle for the Pacific southwest men's singles title. Budge hasn't lost a single set, but Von Cramm has had trouble all the way.

The biggest upset in yesterday's matches was the defeat in the men's doubles semi-finals of Budge and Gene Mako at the hands of George Hughes and Charles Hare of England, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Helen Williams and Baron Von Cramm defeated Joe Hunt, one of America's potential greats, and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin, of France, 8-6, 6-6, in a mixed doubles match.

Rally Programs Sunday Feature Church Services

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 26.—Rally Day observances will be featured at a number of the Ellwood City and district churches on Sunday morning. Orange Lodge
Has Two Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Henrietta Davis, district deputy and Mrs. Lewis of New Castle were special guests of the Orange Lodge when they had their last meeting of September on Friday evening in the First National bank building with an attendance of 30 members.

Nomination of officers will be featured at the next meeting on Friday, October 8, and on the following October 15, and on the following October 22, a lodge night. Friday, October 22, a white elephant party will take place.

HOSPITAL NOTES
ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—Admitted: LeRoy Mohr, Harmony, and Mrs. Carl Hasbach, Park avenue. Discharged: Mrs. Ernest Babcock, New Castle Route 1, and Mrs. Lawrence Carling, Fifth street.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold DeTullo of Center avenue, a daughter, this morning.

Dunlap Guilty Of Drunken Driving

In the case of Henry Dunlap, who was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, a jury at Lawrence court returned a verdict of guilty. The jury retired at 3:30 Friday afternoon and did not reach an agreement until 12:30 this morning. The verdict was sealed and delivered upon the opening of court this morning.

Presbyterian Club Has Initial Outing

Twenty Members Attend Corn And Wiener Roast Held At Goehring Cabin

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—Once-A-Month club of the First Presbyterian church held their first meeting of the fall season on Friday evening in the form of an outing at the W. H. Goehring cabin in Marion township, which proved to be a most delightful event.

The weather, the place, a congenial group and appetizing food all combined to mark the occasion as a successful one. In the early evening the group enjoyed an appetizing and savory corn and wiener roast.

Mrs. J. A. Kirkpatrick and the following committee, Mrs. Norman Rearick, Mrs. Judd Liebenorfer, Miss Lucille Jackson and Miss Ruth Phelps, capably handled all the arrangements.

For the next meeting the group will meet at the church with the exact date to be announced.

Kiwanis Show Is Fine Success

Famous Magician Mystifies Large Assemblage By Perfected Illusions

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—The lives of a number of Ellwood City's underprivileged children will be made much healthier and happier as the result of the magician's performance at the Lincoln high school auditorium Friday evening held under the auspices of the Kiwanis club solely for the above mentioned purpose.

After the almost unbelievable illusions performed by the famous magician, the large, mystified audience were still wondering today if they can "believe their own eyes."

If the audience have a "rush" today, they may attribute it to the mysticisms of last night's performance. It was a fine show in every detail and the Kiwanians are to be commended for their selection in bringing this kind of a show to Ellwood City and the large audience that patronized the performance are secure in their knowledge by previous experience, that the proceeds will be entirely used to enrich the lives of some unfortunate children.

PROVIDENCE GUILD
ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—On Monday evening members of the W. W. Guild of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley will hold their second reading class at the Reid home on the Blackhawk road, with Miss Mary Czar hostess.

AT NEW CASTLE
ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Abner Majors, of Ellport, and Mrs. William Rutter, of Orchard avenue, were New Castle callers on Friday afternoon.

Carbeau Will Be Toastmaster

Will Preside At Chamber Of Commerce Dinner Monday Night

VAN DEVENTER IS CHIEF SPEAKER

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—The Chamber of Commerce industrial dinner which is to be held on Monday evening at the Country Club reached its capacity reservation early yesterday morning. A record of 270 reservations have been turned in for the dinner and some fifty or seventy-five more persons have asked for the right to hear the address which is to be given by John H. VanDeventer.

Chamber of Commerce officials will absolutely not sell another ticket for the dinner and only those who have made reservations will be permitted to attend.

Activities for the huge affair on Monday will start at noon with golf in charge of chairman Bob Thompson. Special prizes for the professional and dub will be at stake and these prizes will be awarded to the winners at the dinner.

Charley Carbeau will act in the capacity of toastmaster and a few words in behalf of Ellwood industry will be taken care of by Ed. Mackasek of the Beaver Enameling Company.

Pep singing will be led by Bob Taylor with the aid of an orchestra. Mr. VanDeventer is expected to arrive here early Monday afternoon and if time permits, he will make an inspection tour of some of the local plants.

The dinner will start promptly at 6:15 and special plans are being made to have the dining room very colorfully decorated for the occasion.

Quimet Members At Dickson Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—Quimet club members were entertained in a pleasing manner Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Philip Dickson, of Orchard avenue. Mrs. Don Gordon was received into the club's membership.

Auctioneer with score awards going to Mrs. Don Gordon and Mrs. Robert Goss. The hostess served a most delicious repast.

On Wednesday evening, October 6, the group will be guests at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Bohlander, of Wampum avenue.

LODGE MEETING
ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—Members of the Protestant Boys of the Orange lodge, No. 136, will hold a meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the First National Bank building.

Elks Degree Team To Be Tendered Banquet Sunday

State And District Officers To Be Guest Speakers At Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—In honor of the 1936 and 1937 Elks degree team which has won the state championship for the past two years, a testimonial dinner and stag will be held on Sunday afternoon and evening in the Elks home.

Wilbur G. Warner of Leighton, state ritualistic chairman; Mayor James G. Bohlander of Franklin; Wilbur P. Baird of Greenville, district deputy; and Robert M. Dale of Oil City, district president, will be the guest speakers.

An attendance of 250 Elks from various towns of western Pennsylvania are expected to attend.

Merit P. Book is chairman of the event and has worked hard to make the affair an outstanding success. The banquet will be served at five o'clock.

Boy Riding Wagon Along Highway Is Struck By Auto

ZELIENOPLE, Sept. 25.—Erwin Lutton, nine-year-old son of Mrs. Kathleen Lutton of Harmony, is in the Ellwood City hospital badly injured, having been struck by an automobile on the Perry highway north of Harmony while riding on a coaster wagon with his brother Gerald and another boy. They had visited the John L. Wise farm just north of Harmony and were returning home. Gerald Lutton, a brother, and Edgar Mitchell, playmates, were riding on the coaster wagon. A machine passed them going toward Harmony driven by Howard Mickle of Zelienople, and Mr. Mickle turned out to meet another machine and struck the boys on the wagon, but failed to see them. He stopped later and found a dent in his fender, and returned to where he thought a stone had struck it at the time, and found the boy badly injured. He was taken to the hospital and has a fractured skull and three fractures of his leg. His condition is better but he is suffering greatly. He was unconscious for some time after being admitted to the hospital.

Elks Square Dance Is Gala Occasion

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—Transformed into a typical rural setting, the Elks ballroom was the scene of a gala event last evening when a square dance was held for the members and their friends.

The large number of couples attending were appropriately attired for the occasion in overalls and gingham frocks, and the music for the quadrilles was played by Steinberger's orchestra.

Throughout the evening seasonable refreshments were served. Joseph Cragle was general chairman of the event, and with his committee, Wendall Allen and James Flannigan, deserves much credit for the complete success of the affair.

Driver Arrested After Accident

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 25.—Charles Rupert Route 7, Ellwood City, the driver of the car in which Miss Mary Louise Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Monroe of Rochester, Pa., was killed on Friday morning of last week, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving following his release from the Mercer Cottage hospital. He was fined $10 and costs by Justice Thomas McClain, Jr., Mercer, which was immediately paid. The information was made by a member of the state motor police. No inquest has yet been conducted by County Coroner Applegate.

Dessert-Bridge At Shields Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—Mrs. William Shields opened her home in Fifth street on Friday evening to members of the B. F. Y. club for their regular meeting which took the form of a dessert-bridge.

Mrs. Walter Jackson was the high score winner it was found after several hours of play.

For their next meeting on Friday evening, October 8, Mrs. George Rapp will be hostess at her cottage at Wurttemberg.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Getting back to the subject of Fiorello H. La Guardia!

We were discussing him the other day, when so rudely interrupted by developments other than the recent New York mayoralty primaries. We were agreed, I believe, that La Guardia, if re-elected (which seems fairly certain), as well as re-nominated, automatically becomes quite a ponderable presidential possibility. I mean to say that the New Yorker will be a possibility as a presidential nominee; not necessarily that he probably will be presidentially elected.

WHAT PARTY?
The question is: If presidentially nominated, what party will nominate him? I have seen the suggestion advanced that he may be chosen to oppose President Roosevelt.

This seems to me to be perfectly ridiculous.

McIntyre Gives Vent To Thoughts As He Crawls Into "White Tie And Tails"

GIVES POINTERS ON NEW STYLES

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—This is the first time I've tried to step out in evening clothes since I don't know when. In the interim, the full dress suit is now called "white tie and tails." If I had class I'd have a guy named Hunter or something with a dead pan to lay out my things.

But No. I have to do everything myself—that high devisive shriek was from a certain lady peeking over my shoulder. During this lay off, too, the one-stud evening shirt modeled as one of those steel spring do-hickies to hike up the coat lapels.

This outfit has been in the moth balls so long it smells a bit gamey. I'll probably find a hornet's nest in an off sleeve and a rat's nest in the coat just about where the suspenders cross. In fact it wouldn't surprise me to find a two-toed sloth hanging to a seam.

But the way I feel just so a bat doesn't fly out and scare me into one of my spells. I'm allergic to bats. Oh, definitely. The last time I was vis-a-vis with a bat I talked in flutty uptakes like Ed Wynn and twitched for a week.

And, of course, my collar. I like the gates ajar effect of a wing collar. It gives the Adam's apple pleasant pasturage. But my supply of collars for evening seems to have taken on an autumnal tint—a bit of the sere and yellow. About three shades lighter than Aunt Agatha's jaundice. But I can't send laundry out to the Chinaman's this time of day and get it back on time.

Lucius Beebe, than whom there is none more whom in white tie-ing it all over the lot, declares the peak in full dress finery is in having the bow ends stand out just so. One may have all the je ne sais quoi of a Jack Buchanan for the meticulous niceties of after dark habiliments, but just let one tie end appear droopy and you are back there in Ascot tie days with the Bloomer Girls. Just thinking about it makes me edgy. Imagine appearing at wherever I'm going with one tie end off balance. I couldn't bear it. Think what the boys would say at The Raquet and at the Hamptons. I'd never live it down. I can hear them now in after years as I totter by, with all the dogs barking and the children yelling: "There goes Old Wilty Tie, yanh, yanh, yanh."

It has always seemed a pity—in deed two pities and a sigh—that some Brummel-minded genius has not perfected a hook-on tie that will be all the go for evening. At heart I'm a hook tie boy. In my adolescent years with bear grease on my hair and a squirt of vanilla on my handkerchief, I'd often feature one of those grass green or fiery red bows one bought off a card.

The vest—or weskit as we say on the Piping Rock verandah—is another chameleon-like feature of evening dress. Just when you think a vest sawed off to the arm pits is hunky dory, zing, they come out with pats reaching down to there. Wonder what became of the vest I picked up in the Burlington Arcade? The one speckled with embroidered fleur de lis. That was a one. I wore it once and somehow it all of a sudden vanished. I've searched high and low. But I have suspicions.

I suppose I'll be about six plets in arrears with pantaloons, too. This pair has three on each side. What with one thing and another, I'd say I have a lot of plets on my pants. I have not done for months. There may be more plets than ever or none at all. If worst comes to worst I'll take along a sharp knife and if plets are out I can run up some alley and unpleat myself.

The fanciest thing about my full dress regalia is the white silk suspenders with gold monogram clasps Paul Whiteman gave me one Christmas. Too pretty to wear. If suspenders snapping was a vogue again, I'd be a sensation. All our folk, clear back to the end of the holler, were suspender snappers. Listen how I snap. That's not so good. Something happened. The Paul Whiteman suspenders couldn't take it. Too elegant. All silk and gold but no stamina. Just a lot of show. And now I'll have to go to the party reaching high in the air with one hand for shakes and reaching low with the other for my britches.

Youngstown Woman Glad To Be Home After China Scare

Reunited With Husband After Trip That Was Intimate With Death

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 25.—A pretty showgirl whose holiday in China made her intimate with death has been reunited with her husband, twice in Shanghai Mrs. Harvey Bell, wife of a night club master-of-ceremonies, escaped destruction by hours.

She left Pittsburgh three months ago, while her husband was filling an engagement there, and sailed for China with two aunts.

They stopped at the Cathay Hotel. Everything was quiet. They left to go to the Del Monte night club. Bombs roared into the hotel, transforming it into an inferno.

At the Del Monte all was gaiety. Mrs. Bell didn't like to leave. She had scarcely departed when bombs again rained destruction.

So she decided to cut short her trip, "in favor of continuing to live."

Plans For Bird Show Progress

Lawrence County Garden Forum Perfecting Arrangements For Big Event

MANY EXHIBITS ARE ANTICIPATED

Plans for the bird show which will be conducted in the George Washington Junior high school, Friday afternoon and evening, and Saturday, October 15 and 16, are progressing nicely. Chairman Howard A. Butler announced today.

Assisting Mr. Butler as co-chairmen will be James W. Fullerton and N. R. Casillo.

Each Garden club in the forum, thirteen in number, will have displays at the bird show. In addition, anyone not a member of the Garden Forum, who has anything of interest to display will be welcomed by the committee, and arrangements can be made with Chairman Butler, or any member of the committee.

One of the features will be a bird-naming contest open to any junior high school student. Birds to be named will be placed on charts and will include only those from this district.

The Education Display committee consists of Mrs. John Robinson, of the East Brook club, chairman; and Mrs. W. C. Mechem, of the Lawrence County Garden club, and Mrs. C. S. McCullough, of the Mahoning Valley Garden club.

The judging committee will be Tom Crenney, Mrs. Paul M. Allen, and Mrs. B. H. Kannenberg. N. R. Casillo will be in charge of the prizes.

Housing Board Strikes Snag

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—Two new regulations affecting the mail order house and undertaking businesses now hold the approval of the State Industrial Board.

Mail order houses, the order holds, may permit employers to work not more than eight hours in any one day or 44 hours in six days in any one week, providing such employees do not work more than ten hours on one selected day.

Employees in the undertaking business may permit employees who assist in embalming and conducting funerals to work in excess of eight hours per day and five ad one-half days per week but not more than 44 hours per week.

Again failing to appoint an executive director at $6,000 a year, the board met yesterday and heard reports of an investigation showing that building codes in certain communities "hindered and obstructed" the board's work because of standards set on building materials.

The board drafted a resolution urging local governments to rewrite their building codes to comply with the Wagner-Stegall Act, appointed Dorothy Pennock Schoell, Huntingdon Valley, Montgomery county, as assistant executive director at $3,000 a year and set October 8 for its next meeting.

Mother Saves Life Of Baby

(International News Service)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 25.—Mrs. Mary Gauthier, hanging up clothes in her back yard, happened to look up and to her horror, saw her two-year-old son Leon tumble out of a second-story window, 25 feet from the ground.

She raced a few steps to the house and caught the infant in her arms. Today, Leon, unhurt, was playing happily in his crib, but not near a widow.
